

Reward Your Members with eLearning

Partner with IEEE Educational Activities and offer eLearning courses as an incentive to your valued members.

Elevate your members' professional journeys with

Increased Value of Membership - Show your members you care by offering them a free course to jumpstart their skills.

Flexible Learning - Offer your members the opportunity to learn at their own pace, anytime, anywhere. The IEEE Learning Network (ILN) is designed to fit seamlessly into their already busy schedules.

Professional Growth - Your members can get up to speed on the latest industry trends and best practices, while also earning certificates that accumulate Professional Development Hours (PDHs) and Continuing Education Units (CEUs), with some courses offering microcredentials such as digital badges that can be shared on social media.

Reasons to offer eLearning

- Recognition for a special achievement
- Special Offer to certain member interest groups
- Prizes for winning contests or competitions
